

Oklahoma 2015 Legislative Scorecard

June 18, 2015

Overview

This scorecard, produced by OCPA Impact, focuses on how Oklahoma state legislators voted during the 2015 legislative session on key bills related to issues of economic freedom, free enterprise, individual opportunity, limited state government and federalism.

OCPA Impact is a 501(c)4 advocacy organization. We work daily at the Oklahoma Capitol while the Legislature is in session as the action partner of the Oklahoma Council of Public Affairs, the state's free-market think tank.

Over the course of the 2015 legislative session, we notified legislators when bills were added to the watch list for potential use on this scorecard. We tracked and have scored committee and floor votes on the bills included.

Bill Summaries

Senate Bill 18

Public School District Administration Savings

[Yes vote = 10 points. Votes scored: Sen. Education Committee, Feb. 9; Senate floor, March 5]

Principal authors: Sen. Kyle Loveless, Rep. Jon Echols

Would have authorized task force to study and make recommendations regarding consolidation of Oklahoma public schools administration, in an effort to reduce administrative costs and direct more funds to classrooms. Data from the Nat. Center for Education Statistics and the U.S. Dept. of Education suggest district administration growth in Oklahoma has significantly outpaced student enrollment since at least 1998. [Last action: Passed Senate; not heard in House]

Senate Bill 127

Appointment of Medicaid Agency Director

[Yes vote = 10 points. Votes scored: Senate Health and Human Services Committee, Feb. 16; Senate floor, March 10; House Government Oversight and Accountability Committee, March 25]

Principal authors: Sen. Kim David, Rep. Tom Newell

Would have allowed Governor to directly appoint director of the Oklahoma Health Care Authority, the agency responsible for administering the state's Medicaid program. In the last decade, Medicaid spending has been the fastest-growing component of Oklahoma state government, and total health care spending now outpaces total education spending. The reform in SB 127 would represent a step in the right direction to make state government agencies more directly accountable to taxpayers and voters. [Last action: Passed House committee; not heard on House floor]

Senate Bill 468

Protecting Mineral Rights Owners

[Yes vote = 15 points. Votes scored: Senate Energy Committee, Feb. 26; Senate floor, March 12; House Environmental Law Committee, Apr. 7; House floor, Apr. 22]

Principal authors: Sen. Bryce Marlatt, Rep. Kevin Calvey

In future cases in which a municipality restricted drilling for oil and natural gas, would have made the municipality responsible for compensating mineral rights owners for any revenue lost due to the new restrictions; utilized the "takings" concept from the U.S. and Oklahoma constitutions. [Last action: Passed House; did not emerge from conference committees]

Senate Bill 560

Direct Primary Care Protections

[Yes vote = 20 points. Votes scored: Senate Insurance Committee, Feb. 19; Senate floor, March 2; House Insurance Committee, Apr. 9; House floor, Apr. 15]

Principal authors: Sen. Rob Standridge, Rep. David Derby

Proactively preserves the right of Oklahoma patients and their doctors to arrange for direct primary care outside of traditional insurance plans, using private payment. In some states, lawmakers have passed legislation to discourage direct-care arrangements and force citizens into health care exchanges. In such instances, a direct primary care arrangement with one's physician is considered the same as an insurance plan and is regulated as insurance, placing an undue burden on physicians and making quality care less available. [Last action: Signed by Governor, Apr. 21]

Senate Bill 609

Education Savings Accounts

[Yes vote = 20 points; Votes scored: Senate Education Committee, Feb. 16; Senate Finance Committee, Feb. 24]

Principal authors: Sen. Clark Jolley, Rep. Jason Nelson

Would have allowed parents of Oklahoma schoolchildren to utilize Education Savings Accounts (ESAs) to place their children in individually customized educational environments – including environments outside the traditional public education system. Many parents are currently trapped in a school district that may not meet the unique educational needs of their children. Parents tend to know best what their children need, and ESAs would expand parental options while also increasing per-pupil funding for students in public schools – all at no additional cost to taxpayers. Similar to HB 2003. [Last action: Passed Senate committee; not heard on Senate floor]

Senate Bill 648

State Employee Health Insurance Reform

[Yes vote = 20 points. Votes scored: Senate Insurance Committee, Feb. 19; Senate floor, March 3; House Insurance Committee, March 30]

Principal authors: Sen. Greg Treat, Rep. Glen Mulready

Would have allowed HealthChoice, the main provider of Oklahoma state employee health plans, to adjust deductibles and copays for medical procedures for state employees, based on certain criteria. Would have allowed HealthChoice to steer state employees toward facilities that are already saving county and city governments in Oklahoma millions of dollars by providing high-quality procedures at a fraction of the cost of large hospitals, due to low overhead of the free-market medicine model. Similar to HB 1567. [Last action: Passed House committee; not heard on House floor]

Senate Bill 676

Pushing Back Against EPA Overreach

[Yes vote = 15 points; Votes scored: Senate Energy Committee, Feb. 26; Senate floor (3rd read.), March 10; House Environmental Law Committee, Apr. 7; House floor, Apr. 23; Senate floor (4th read.), Apr. 28]

Principal authors: Sen. Greg Treat, Rep. Jon Echols

Would have statutorily ensured Oklahoma does not comply with unconstitutional or otherwise illegal provisions in new Clean Power Plan regulations being implemented by the federal Environmental Protection Agency (EPA). Currently, Oklahoma's Attorney General is pursuing legal actions against the EPA in an attempt to overturn or limit these federal rules and protect citizens from burdensome, costly and unnecessary environmental regulations. [Last action: Vetoed by Governor, May 1]

Senate Bill 752

Medicaid Reform

[Yes vote = 20 points. Votes scored: Senate Appropriations Committee, Feb. 25; Senate floor, March 10; House Insurance Committee, March 30]

Principal authors: Sen. Kim David, Rep. Glen Mulready

Would have initiated a coordinated care model for a portion of Oklahoma's Medicaid population, similar to models currently saving taxpayers millions of dollars in other states. Oklahoma's Medicaid system is currently fee-for-service, with little emphasis on responsible individual behavior. This has led to significant cost overruns. By better coordinating care among providers for individual Medicaid beneficiaries – i.e., individual people, with unique health needs and circumstances – health outcomes can improve, at a savings to taxpayers. Similar to HB 1566. [Last action: Passed House committee; not heard on House floor]

Senate Bill 782

Charter School Expansion

[Yes vote = 10 points. Votes scored: Senate Education Committee, Feb. 23; Senate Appropriations Committee, Feb. 25; Senate floor (3rd read.), March 10; House Common Education Committee, Apr. 8; House floor, Apr. 14; Senate floor (4th read.), Apr. 16]

Principal authors: Sen. Clark Jolley, Rep. Lee Denney

Increases school choice options statewide by eliminating statutory restrictions on placing charter schools outside of Oklahoma and Tulsa counties. Establishes best practices for sponsors and applicants. Also allows for an appeals process, should a charter school application be denied despite local community support. Similar to HB 1696 as originally filed. [Last action: Signed by Governor, Apr. 24]

Senate Bill 809

Preempting Excessive Local Restrictions on Energy Production

[Yes vote = 20 points. Votes scored: Senate Energy Committee, Feb. 19; Senate floor (3rd read.), March 11; House Environmental Law Committee, Apr. 8; House floor, Apr. 22; Senate floor (4th read.), May 21]

Principal authors: Sen. Brian Bingman, Rep. Jeff Hickman

Preempts local Oklahoma municipalities from prohibiting oil and gas production within their geographical limits. Stipulates that municipalities may enact "reasonable" restrictions on oil and gas production within city limits. Prioritizes individual property rights of Oklahoma mineral owners over "local control" concerns. Within the past year, the city of Denton, Tex., enacted a drilling ban, and similar overly burdensome regulations are being considered in Stillwater and Norman, Okla. [Last action: Signed by Governor, May 29.]

Senate Bill 839

Funding for Oklahoma Museum of Popular Culture

[No vote = 10 points. Votes scored: House Joint Committee on Appropriations and Budget, May 14; Senate floor (#1), May 18; Senate floor (#2), May 19; House floor (#1), May 21; House floor (#2), May 22]

Principal authors: Sen. Brian Bingman, Rep. Jeff Hickman

Formally creates Oklahoma Museum of Popular Culture and authorizes Oklahoma Capitol Improvement Authority to issue $25 million worth of bonds to finance construction. Museums, generally speaking, are not a core function of state government. Oklahoma's state government already funds a number of museums, and will likely continue to do so; however, based on past experience with the Native American Cultural Center and Museum, costs for a new museum are likely to mount above projections, further burdening taxpayers.

[Last action: Signed by Governor, May 29]

House Bill 1566

Medicaid Reform

[Yes vote = 20 points. Votes scored: House Insurance Committee, Feb. 24; House floor (3rd read.), March 10; Senate Appropriations Committee, Apr. 1; Senate floor, 14; House floor (4th read.), Apr. 28]

Principal authors: Rep. Glen Mulready, Sen. Kim David

Initiates a coordinated care model for a portion of Oklahoma's Medicaid population, similar to models currently saving taxpayers millions of dollars in other states. Oklahoma's Medicaid system is currently fee-for-service, with little emphasis on responsible individual behavior. This has led to significant cost overruns. By better coordinating care among providers for individual Medicaid beneficiaries – i.e., individual people, with unique health needs and circumstances – health outcomes can improve, at a savings to taxpayers. Similar to SB 752. [Last action: Signed by Governor, May 4]

House Bill 1567

State Employee Health Insurance Reform

[Yes vote = 20 points. Votes scored: House State Government Operations Committee, Feb. 12; House floor, March 3; Senate Insurance Committee, March 26; Senate floor, Apr. 8]

Principal authors: Rep. Glen Mulready, Sen. Greg Treat

Allows HealthChoice, the main provider of Oklahoma state employee health plans, to adjust deductibles and copays for medical procedures for state employees, based on certain criteria. Allows HealthChoice to steer state employees toward facilities that are already saving county and city governments in Oklahoma millions of dollars by providing high-quality procedures at a fraction of the cost of large hospitals, due to low overhead of the free-market medicine model. Similar to SB 648. [Last action: Signed by Governor, Apr. 13]

House Bill 1614

Preempting Local Restrictions on Ridesharing

[Yes vote = 10 points. Votes scored: House Business, Labor and Retirement Laws Committee, Feb. 26; House floor (3rd read.), March 11; Senate Energy Committee, Apr. 1; Senate floor, Apr. 15; House floor (4th read.), Apr. 30]

Principal authors: Rep. Katie Henke, Sen. Jason Smalley

Establishes statewide standards across Oklahoma for ridesharing companies like Uber and Lyft. Previously, individual municipalities in the state had adopted or were considering varying ridesharing standards, which could lead to burdensome patchwork of regulations and restrictions, making it less likely ridesharing companies would continue doing business in the state. Similar to SB 809, prioritizes rights of individuals to access new technologies and services over "local control" concerns. [Last action: Signed by Governor, May 8]

House Bill 1696

Charter School Expansion

[Yes vote = 10 points. Votes scored: House Common Education Committee, Feb. 25; House floor, March 10; Senate Education Committee, March 23; Senate floor, Apr. 22]

Principal authors: Rep. Jason Nelson, Sen. David Holt

As originally filed, would have provided avenues for physical-location charter schools to be sponsored and established throughout Oklahoma; previously, due to statutory restrictions, physical-location charter schools could be sponsored and established only in Oklahoma and Tulsa counties. As originally filed, similar to SB 782; was later amended so that it would have allowed governing bodies of cities to sponsor new charter schools. [Last action: Passed Senate floor; Senate amendments not approved by House]

House Bill 1747

Rural Opportunity Zones

[Yes vote = 20 points. Votes scored: House Agriculture and Rural Development Committee, Feb. 11; House floor, Feb. 24; Senate Finance Committee, Apr. 7; Senate floor, Apr. 21]

Principal authors: Rep. Tom Newell, Sen. Mike Schulz

Would have made Oklahoma counties with declining population more competitive by classifying them as Rural Opportunity Zones and offering a five-year income tax exemption for families, individuals, workers and employers – new taxpayers, all – moving in from out of state. Kansas currently offers a similar program. Every county in Texas is income-tax-free. Counties in Colorado, Missouri and Arkansas also offer competitive alternatives to Oklahoma counties. [Last action: Passed Senate floor; did not emerge from conference committees]

House Bill 1748

Federal Funds Transparency

[Yes vote = 20 points. Votes scored: House Government Oversight and Accountability Committee, Feb. 11; House floor (3rd read.), Feb. 25; Senate Appropriations Committee, Apr. 1; Senate floor, Apr. 22; House floor (4th read.), Apr. 29]

Principal authors: Rep. Tom Newell, Sen. Greg Treat

Transparency measure that would have required Oklahoma state government agencies to publicly disclose the federal funds they receive, as well as strings attached to those funds. Federal funds spent through state government via Medicaid, public schools and other programs make up a substantial portion of the state budget; state agencies often must agree to burdensome additional requirements as a prerequisite to receiving federal dollars. A similar accountability measure was vetoed in 2013. [Last action: Vetoed by Governor, May 11]

House Bill 1749

Paycheck Protection

[Yes vote = 20 points. Votes scored: House Government Oversight and Accountability Committee, Feb. 11; House floor, Feb. 18; Senate General Government Committee, March 16; Senate floor, March 26]

Principal authors: Rep. Tom Newell, Sen. Nathan Dahm

Prohibits Oklahoma state government from collecting membership dues on behalf of any organization that collectively bargains against taxpayers at the state agency or school district level. Resembles Wisconsin's reforms under Gov. Scott Walker. Taxpayers in Oklahoma had previously been forced to facilitate dues collections for government labor unions that funded extreme political causes. [Last action: Signed by Governor, Apr. 2]

House Bill 2003

Education Savings Accounts

[Yes vote = 20 points. Votes scored: House Common Education Committee, Feb. 16]

Principal authors: Rep. Jason Nelson, Sen. Clark Jolley

Would have allowed parents of Oklahoma schoolchildren to utilize Education Savings Accounts (ESAs) to place their children in individually customized educational environments – including environments outside the traditional public education system. Many parents are currently trapped in a school district that may not meet the unique educational needs of their children. Parents tend to know best what their children need, and ESAs would expand parental options while also increasing per-pupil funding for students in public schools – all at no additional cost to taxpayers. Similar to SB 609. [Last action: Failed House committee]

House Bill 2237

Funding for American Indian Cultural Center and Museum

[No vote = 10 points. Votes scored: House Joint Committee on Appropriations and Budget, May 13; House floor, May 18; Senate floor, May 21]

Principal authors: Rep. Jeff Hickman, Sen. Brian Bingman

Provides additional funding, in the form of $25 million in bonds, for the American Indian Cultural Center and Museum, still under construction. Oklahoma's state government currently funds a number of museums – including over $1 million a year for this museum – and will likely continue to do so; however, with this project, costs have consistently mounted above projections, further burdening taxpayers. To date, taxpayers have committed over $100 million to this individual project. [Last action: Signed by Governor, May 28]

House Bill 2242

General Appropriations Funding for Oklahoma State Government

[No vote = 15 points. Votes scored: House Joint Committee on Appropriations and Budget, May 20; House floor, May 20; Senate floor, May 22]

Principal authors: Rep. Earl Sears, Sen. Clark Jolley

Provides appropriations for much of Oklahoma state government for Fiscal Year 2016, though actually equals only between one-third and two-fifths of total state spending. During session, legislative- and executive-branch leaders consistently said the state was facing a budget “shortfall” of at least $611 million. The FY 2016 budget agreement, of which HB 2242 was the centerpiece, was touted by lawmakers as a reduction compared to the prior fiscal year's appropriation; in reality, however, the budget agreement represented an increase of over $17 million compared to the prior fiscal year. [Last action: Signed by Governor, June 1]

House Joint Resolution 1012

“Right to Farm” Ballot Question

[Yes vote = 10 points. Votes scored: House Rules Committee, Feb. 11; House floor (3rd read.), March 10; Senate Rules Committee, Apr. 8; Senate floor, Apr. 21; House floor (4th read.), Apr. 29]

Principal authors: Rep. Scott Biggs, Sen. Jason Smalley

Gives Oklahoma voters the opportunity, on statewide ballot, to guarantee the right to engage in certain farming and ranching practices. Experiences in California and other states show what can happen when agricultural producers are subjected to excessive regulations. The stated end goal of many of the ultra-liberal activists behind these regulations is simple: end the use of livestock, poultry, fish and other agricultural products for food. North Dakota and Missouri have passed safeguards similar to HJR 1012. [Last action: Filed with Secretary of State, Apr. 30]

Oklahoma Senate 2015 Voting Record

Where does your state senator stand?

Formula Used

We weighted the relative value of each bill included on the scorecard. A vote in line with our position on a given bill is worth either 10, 15 or 20 points. We tracked and scored committee and floor votes on the bills included.

Each senator and representative has a total points possible based on our formula. Their final percentage score is based on points earned, plus any extra credit for authoring or co-authoring bills supported on the scorecard (2 points for principal authorship, 1 point for co-authorship), compared to total points possible. Each legislator's total points possible may vary based on committee memberships, absentees or other factors.

Each legislator's final percentage score and letter grade provide an indication of how closely their votes aligned in the 2015 legislative session to our positions on the issues considered.
